OUR PHILOSOPHY

Provide support for indie creatives

We believe that some gems are yet to be discovered! Indie authors and filmmakers often just need a chance to be heard. We provide a platform for new and indie creatives with powerful and inspiring work to share their insights with our audience.

Amplify inspirational and faith-based content

We think some of the best creative work entertains and enlightens! Our goal is to help the world know more about these inspiring films and books. We discuss and analyze these creative works on our platform and promote them!

Recommend products and services that align with our vision

We support products and services that help make the world a better place! Anything related to health, wellness, environmental initiatives, organic recipes, gardening, etc. Aknowingspirit will happily promote on our blog, podcast, and with our social media community.
